

Mechanics of Cognitive Principles & Restructuring (CP&R)

Instructor: Rae Forseth

The Mechanics of Cognitive Principles & Restructuring (CP&R) is designed to provide an overview & basic understanding of the facilitation and communication skills used within CP&R, as well as an introduction to the program. This is not a facilitator's course, but rather an introduction for people interested in becoming a facilitator, a refresher for current facilitators or for individuals that need a better understanding of CP&R.
